The Ups and Downs of Patricia as She Learns to Skate

Fair weather and the promise of not-too-far-off vacation brings out the roller skating set, and Patricia Behle is playing it cool to start off. She sets those wobbly knees and lets the old wheels roll . . . she's up and off.

Alley Oop! Now she's down. Watch the noggin . . . life doesn't always roll easily, but the spill on the grass didn't hurt anything except Patricia's dignity.

Up for another try, she wonders how she became so rusty from the Winter's layoff. "I had plenty of practice last year," Patricia muses, and decides she'll tone up with one skate at a time.

—Mercury Staff Photos

Down again! "That was brilliant of me," Patricia mourns as she hits the deck once more. But the frown is not dismay. It's perseverance glowering. Now she sails around the block faster than little boys on bikes. Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Behle, 867 North Adams street. She's typical of hordes of youngsters skinning their knees from Pottsgrove manor to Terrace lane to Sunset drive. But it's all in the game of learning life's little ups and downs. And learning to skate, too. Whoops! Down again.

48 NABBED BY PATROLS ON ROUTE 83

Violations Include Reckless Driving, Speeding

TROOPERS, TOWNSHIP POLICE CRACK DOWN

At least 48 motorists have been arrested for traffic violations on Route 83 between Pottstown and Spring City since State police doubled the patrols in that area May 23.

Thirty-six of the arrests were made by State troopers of the Thorndale barracks. Twelve more were made by East Pikeland Township Police Chief Robert Gates.

State police made 11 of the arrests over the long Memorial Day weekend.

The number of patrol cars covering the area was ordered doubled after an accident on the stretch of highway known as Deadman's Run claimed the lives of a Pottstown girl and two Philadelphia youths May 22.

SIXTEEN DAYS earlier an accident on the same two-mile stretch killed a soldier from Spring City and two Reading women.

Police have 15 days in which to file information concerning traffic violators with a justice of the peace. Those about whom information has already been filed include:

David Dutton, 32 East Fourth street, noisy muffler; Dorothy McLain, 1432 Sunset drive, reckless driving; Barry Taylor, Chicago, staying with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blauser, 427 West street, speeding; Ronald Baxter, Miller's Trailer court, Spring City, driving without a license; John Levengood, 18 South Wall street, Spring City, reckless driving; Joseph King, Wayne, driving to the left of the center line.

None of those listed has had a hearing yet.

Death Took No Holiday

Area Toll Rises to Seven; 5 In State's Worst Accident

Pottstown area accidents accounted for nearly a third of the highway fatalities in all of Pennsylvania during the Memorial Day weekend.

The total of holiday deaths in the area rose to seven Tuesday morning when 54 year old Henry Casey, Glendora, N. J., died at Memorial hospital.

Casey was the driver of one of two cars that collided Monday evening on Township Line road, half a mile south of Limerick. Four other persons, one of them a passenger in Casey's auto, died in the crash.

The accident was the worst in the State and the second worst in the United States.

Two persons also died Saturday morning off Route 422, fifteen miles west of Pottstown.

THE SEVEN holiday deaths give the area a record in horror over the State total of 22, and Pottstown vicinity highways probably have written another record for the month of May.

Fourteen persons were killed throughout the month in the area. This is four more than killed in all of Montgomery county and only two less than killed in Philadelphia.

The State Bureau of Traffic Safety has not completed compiling statistics for the month.

The Memorial day record was set despite stepped up patroling of area highways by State and township police.

Corporal Richard Mince, of the Jeffersonville barracks, said Monday after the accident near Limerick, "We had everybody out on highways full time today —and still this happens."

Card Collectors Have Their Trials

By LOUIS GRANGER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

In the Spring a young man's fancy turns to . . . baseball cards.

At least it does for the younger generation and particularly for ten year old Michael A. Newman, who has become an expert on the Phillies baseball team and the collection of the cards.

The cards are two by four inches and come six to a pack along with a flat piece of bubble gum. On one side is a color picture of a player, on the other side, the players history including batting average, position and other pertinent facts.

There is hardly a boy in town without a few of them and a yen for the almost impossible —a complete collection.

MICHAEL, who has been a collector since 1957, has collected so far this year 342 cards and says there is close to five hundred more to go to complete the season.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Newman, 33 Woodland drive,

MICHAEL A. NEWMAN

Michael said as far as the chewing gum goes "we usually throw that away."

But there is more to collecting than meets the eye.

Although there are various types of cards such as Zorro, Davy Crockett, and the latest cards of various and sundry monsters, that come out all year around, the baseball type only are issued from April or May and continue through about September.

There are seven or eight series with over 80 in each

First Guesses Filed In Hot Day Contest

The first entrants checked in Tuesday, and according to their guesses, the hottest days during the three-month Summer period should be July 14 and July 28.

First in with a guess in The Mercury's highest temperature contest that offers $130 in prizes was Alfred Scarlett, 352 West Beech street.

Scarlett chose July 28 at 3:30 p.m. as the time when the hottest temperature will be reached during June, July or August.

If he's the winner, he can pick up the $130 in prizes offered by 12 area businesses. The prizes include an electric table lamp, two $10 saving accounts at local banks, a timer for electric appliances, an automatic torch, a picnic table and bench set, and merchandise gift certificates worth a total of $55.

THE PRIZES could just as easily go to the second entry, Amy Renning, Pottstown RD 3. She chose July 14 at 2:15 p.m. as the hottest period during the Summer.

And if the prizes don't go to one of the early guessers, they could go to you. The contest is easy to enter.

Just fill out the official entry blank in The Mercury with your selection for the month, day, hour and minute when you think it will be the hottest. Then bring the entry, with your name and address to The Mercury, King and Hanover streets, or place it in an envelope or paste it to a post card and mail it to the Weather Editor.

4 Shots Fired In Theft Chase

Two Pottstown teen-agers were arrested after a bullet-punctuated chase Tuesday night and charged with operating a car without the consent of the owner.

Police said the pair stole a car belonging to Lewis Habecker, Geigertown, from the parking lot at the Doehler-Jarvis division of the National Lead company, High and Washington streets.

Confined in borough hall at 10 p. m. were Garrison Shawell, 17, of 191½ North Warren street, and Ronald Bauer, 15, of 556 Beech street.

It was just May's weather —cool, cloudy and rainy. And drizzly, and damp in between.

The U.S. Weather Bureau's official rainfall measurement for the month is 5.32 inches, registered in Reading. A larger amount—6.03 inches — fell in Pottstown.

IT WAS the wettest May since 1953, when more than 9 inches fell during the month.

In contrast to 1959, Pottstown was practically flooded out. Only 1.29 inches fell last May.

June Expected To Be Better

June will present a different face than its predecessor, rainy May, as today, tonight and tomorrow are expected to be fair and warm.

Tuesday left a decent impression of the old month, as sun broke through swiftly moving clouds from time to time, and warmed the area at intervals.

State Supreme Court Snubs Sewer Appeal

The Upper Perkiomen valley sewer system opposition will take its case to the U.S. Supreme court, as its appeal to have a State Supreme court decision reargued was denied.

Victor J. Roberts, Pottstown attorney for 12 Pennsburg, East Greenville and Red Hill taxpayers who have seen appeals to stop the sewer project denied in county and State courts, said the official papers will be filed tomorrow in Washington.

In the shortest decision on record, the State Supreme court said, "Petition for reargument denied," to squelch opposition attempts to gain an injunction against the $2.5 million sewer project.

The legal firm of Ford, Green, Larson and McGrath in Washington D.C. has been retained to handle the appeal of the dissident taxpayers, in the Nation's highest court.

A COMPLAINT in equity was first filed with the Montgomery county Court of Common Pleas March 21 by the group of taxpayers headed by George Hyam, Pennsburg builder.

This followed a previous county court action which set aside all original objections to the sewer project Feb. 11. The main objection of the opposition to the system is that the cost is too high.

Jewish Faith Notes Shavuot Festival

Shavuot, the commemoration of the Lord's presentation to Moses 3500 years ago on Mt. Sinai of the Ten Commandments, is being celebrated throughout the Jewish world with prayers and services.

The commemoration of the presentation of the two stone tablets on which the Judais-Christian world has based modern law and order, began at sundown Tuesday and will continue through sundown tomorrow.

The Rev. Dr. Emil Schorsch, rabbi of Mercy and Truth synagog, High and Warren streets, will discuss the "Mountain of God" at 9 a. m. services today.

"Mountain of God" comes from the second chapter of Isaiah. The prophet predicts that it will come to pass that many people will go "up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob, and He will teach us His ways, and we shall walk in His path: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem."

ISAIAH EXPLAINS that when that time comes to pass, "He shall judge among nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

The presentation of the Ten Commandments came exactly 40 days after the redemption of the Jews from slavery in Egypt.

"This of course has a very great significance," Rabbi

What Price The Diploma? Just Ask Any Pottstown High School Senior

Pottstown High school Seniors are experiencing what many people would call the happiest days of their lives—the time leading up to graduation.

But amid the happy clamor of final school days, there is a slightly hollow sound.

The cost of graduation, technically speaking, is nil. The school this year is paying for the cap and gown rental, an expense that formerly was borne by graduates. The diploma, commencement speaker, and other arrangements for graduation are paid for by the institution.

But graduation is not that simple, as the parents of any Pottstown High Senior can tell you.

INCIDENTAL expenses from a number of articles and social events that are a tradition in graduation pile up to $100 and more for the average pupil.

"I think I might be afraid to sit down and add it up," was the way Janet Moulder, one of the Seniors, put it. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Moulder, 1 West Ninth street.

She said, "A lot of the girls buy two or three different dresses—a gown for the prom, and others for class night and commencement." All three of the affairs come within a few days of each other.

The average price of a "good" gown with matching shoes is $35, while dresses run somewhat less, she pointed out.

ANOTHER EXPENSE for a Senior are the class pictures, explains Joanne Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Williams, 505 Hale street. She said the smallest order for the pictures, which are exchanged by members of the class, costs "around $20." If a pupil wanted a picture for each of his 200-plus classmates, the total would be closer to $30.

Fulbright Says President Was Given Faulty Advice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Central Intelligence Director Allen W. Dulles balked Tuesday at telling investigating senators what information the U2 spy plane was after when it was downed over the Soviet Union May 1.

This was one of the few details newsmen were able to learn after Dulles had testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for nearly six hours in an atmosphere of extreme secrecy.

At the end, committee Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) stuck to his contention that it was unwise for President Eisenhower to acknowledge responsibility for that flight, which Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev seized on to destroy the summit talks in mid-May.

ALLEN W. DULLES

Fulbright, who gave newsmen the skimpiest of information on what went on behind the committee's guarded doors, insisted Eisenhower shouldered the responsibility because of what Fulbright called questionable decisions by State Department and White House political officers whom he did not identify.

Saying the CIA should not be held accountable in any way for this, Fulbright told reporters "Mr. Dulles does not pass on the wisdom of policy but confines himself to the furnishing of information."

Earlier, Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) let it be known he had pressed Dulles as to why the U2 flight was deemed so important only two weeks before the summit meeting was to open in Paris.

Gore recalled that Eisenhower described the information the plane sought as vital and that the President suggested it might not be obtainable later.

When Fulbright was asked if the committee received a report on the purpose of the controversial spy mission, he replied:

"We did not. Mr. Dulles said he did not care to comment on that."

Reporters asked Fulbright if he thought Dulles advised the State Department or the White House on the spy plane issue.

"My impression is he did not," he replied.

"My position is that the policy decisions—the minor ones as well as the major one regarding the President's assumption of responsibility—were made not as a result of a recommendation from the CIA."

But Fulbright went on to say the committee is not trying to place any blame—"we are not trying to tie the donkey's tail on some person."

Asked what he felt the decision of Eisenhower to assume personal responsibility for the U2 flights might do in the future to the conduct of the presidency, Fulbright said:

"I would hope that future presidents do not feel themselves to be bound by this precedent for taking responsibility for all the activities of the CIA."

He added that "it is premature to say positively there are no reasons which might be a justification" for Eisenhower's decision.

In general, Fulbright said Dulles' day-long testimony "gave us a much clearer understanding of the role the CIA played in this mission."

Dulles appeared before the committee amid secrecy precautions rarely, if ever, matched on Capitol Hill.

He read a prepared statement, but didn't furnish copies even to the senators who heard him. The hearing room was combed in advance to make sure no microphones or other listening equipment had been planted.

Dulles demanded and was given the right to decide whether anything at all of what he said would be made public. After a morning session, he told newsmen he doubted he would allow out even a censored version of his testimony.

New Balloon Launched From Wallops Island

WASHINGTON (AP) — A gigantic plastic sphere, tall as a 10-story building, blossomed into a bright star some 200 miles above the Virginia coastline at dusk Tuesday night.

The huge aluminum-coated ball was a forerunner of lightweight satellites that will be used for relaying radio and television signals over great distances.

Folded into a metal container 26½ inches in diameter, the sphere was launched by rocket from Wallops Island, Va., by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

It was plainly visible throughout the Washington area, and could be seen for 1,000 miles up and down the Atlantic Coast wherever the skies were clear.

It was the fifth in a series of test launchings conducted by NASA in preparation for launching a balloon-type satellite from Cape Canaveral, Fla., later this summer.

Gen. Cemal Gursel Declares He Will Retire

OUSTED DEMOCRATS WILL BE ELIGIBLE

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — LT. Gen. Cemal Gursel declared Tuesday he will not be a candidate in the elections he has promised Turkey.

The acting President and Premier, who took over the government after last Friday's army coup against the 10-year authoritarian rule of Premier Adnan

CEMAL GURSEL

Menderes, told a news conference also that the ousted Democrats will be allowed to compete in the elections.

Asked if he himself would run, the big white-haired general replied emphatically, "Youk" (No.).

"My intentions are to lead the country to the point of elections. When the electoral rolls and the new constitution are completed all political parties will have the same rights, and the people will tak over. After that I shall retire and lead the life of an ordinary citizen."

Although Gen. Gursel said Menderes' Democrats would be allowed to compete, there was some confusion about the former Premier and members of his government who have been arrested.

He said they had been arrested because "these people were guilty in our belief."

A committee already is at work to investigate the Menderes' regime, he added, and "if the detained persons are found guilty they will not be able to file as candidates in the forthcoming elections. They will have to account for their deeds."

Izvestia Protests Plane Transfer

MOSCOW (AP)—Izvestia charged Tuesday that the routing of 120 U. S. Air Force planes to the Far East is "doubly provocative."

Commenting on a Washington announcement last Friday that the planes will be sent to Thailand, the Philippines and Formosa, the Soviet government newspaper declared:

"This is being done at a time when the indignation aroused by the espionage operation of (American) U2 planes had not yet died down and when public opinion in all countries is demanding an end to the dangerous actions of the American military."

(In announcing the transfer of the plane force from the West Coast, Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Thomas D. White said the operation had been planned long ago and was not related to the changed international situation.)

Hospitalized Man Is Accused of Murdering Wife

MACON, Ga. (AP) — A wealthy property owner who underwent surgery 25 hours before his wife's death, was accused Tuesday of leaving his hospital bed, strangling her and returning to the hospital.

Detective Chief W. H. Bargeron said a murder charge was filed against Chester A. Burge, 55. The announcement was made several hours after Burge was released from a Macon hospital where he had been undergoing psychiatric examination.

Bargeron said some sort of flexible instrument was used to strangle Mrs. Burge in the home in a fashionable Macon residential section.

Burge underwent a double hernia operation about 25 hours before his wife, Mary, 54, was found dead in a bedroom on the second floor of their home the morning of May 11.

Burge was arrested on an open charge a few days later and steadfastly maintained his innocence. He was taken to the hospital for a psychiatric examination on May 22.

The detective chief said investigation showed that a man drove or otherwise helped Burge to go from the hospital to his home the night of May 10.

Bargeron declined to identify the man.

Mrs. Burge was found dead in a bedroom of the Burge home the morning of May 11 by a Negro maid who went to awaken her after preparing Mrs. Burge's 7-year-old grandson for school.

Police said jewelry valued at $50,000 was untouched in the bedroom.

NIXON ASKS 'NO RETREAT' SEATO AIM

Vice President Opens Annual Strategy Meeting

EISENHOWER GREETS DELEGATES AT LUNCH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon urged free world countries to adopt a no-retreat, no-concession policy to counter the Soviet Union's blowup of the summit conference.

"If one fact has become clear in international relations," he said "It is that peace cannot be purchased by weakness and concessions on the part of the free world."

Nixon spoke out Tuesday in opening the sixth annual strategy meeting of the eight nations which are members of the South East Asia Treaty Organization.

President Eisenhower later officially welcomed delegates at a White House luncheon. In a brief speech, he confined himself to lauding the role the defense alliance, formed in 1954, has played in combatting Communist aggression, subversion and infiltration in the area.

"However, we cannot afford to relax our vigilance or slacken our cooperative efforts to further the high principles of the Pacific theater," Eisenhower said.

"No defense alliance of which we are a member faces a greater challenge or protects a more vital segment of the free world than SEATO."

Nixon, subsituting for Eisenhower in the opening ceremonies, ruled out any thought of retreat or appeasement in the face of the Soviet post-summit policy.

In the critical years ahead, he said, free nations should be guided by "one all-important principle — firmness without belligerence" to keep East-West differences from exploding into a nuclear war.

Delegates who gathered to hear him in an atmosphere of military honor guards and blaring trumpets included the foreign ministers of France, Britain, the Philippines, Pakistan and Thailand, as well as Prime Ministers Robert C. Menzies of Australia and Walter Nash of New Zealand.

State Highways Secretary Deplores Community Requests

HARRISBURG, (AP)—"This is a much better highways department than most people give us credit for being," State Highways Secretary Park H. Martin said Tuesday.

The department, he said, is hampered by the problem of unnecessary mileage on the State highways system and the need for new legislation and permanent civil service.

"It's time Pennsylvania realized it has the biggest and toughest State highway system in the nation," Martin said in an interview.

The highways secretary pointed out there are 41,422 miles of road on the State system, much of it through mountainous terrain and areas which have heavy snowfall.

"And a hell of a lot of it shouldn't be on the State system," he declared.

Anytime any community or county has a problem, anytime there is a need for construction or repairs for which there is no local money, Martin said, the answer is: "Put it on the State system."

Martin said the department was not the best in the nation and would not be "until we get improvements in civil service and legislation."

Several administration highways bills, including one to make it easier for the department to get land needed for rights of way, failed to win approval of the Legislature.

Martin also said the department needs to have permanent civil service rather than the present executive civil service, where the job is guaranteed for the duration of the administration in power.

"A young man just getting out of college sometimes looks with a pretty fishy eye at executive civil service," he said.

To emphasize the size of the State system, the department said that Pennsylvania has more mileage than the New England states, New York and New Jersey combined.

The Commonwealth also has more State road mileage than the total for the nation's three most populous states — California, New York and Illinois.

During the past ten years, Martin said, there have been repeated requests that the counties take over the roads that should not be on the State system. But, he added, "They just won't do it."

De Gaulle Criticizes KhrushchevMotives

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle Tuesday night criticized Nikita Khrushchev's summit demands on President Eisenhower over the U2 incident and suggested the Soviet Premier might better have stayed home rather than come to wreck the Paris conference.

De Gaulle declared the spy plane provided an insufficient motive for canceling the talks in the opening era of overflying in space.

De Gaulle told France in a TV-radio report on the summit failure:

"It must be said that, if the flight of an American photographic plane over Soviet territory 15 days before the meeting was, assuredly and for the least, untimely—which in fact the President of the United States recognized in ordering that such flights should not be made henceforth—it was not sufficient motive for refusing to open at the summit discussion of the world's affairs."

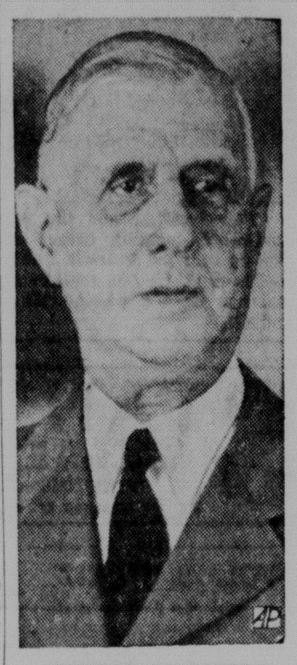
De Gaulle was the last of the Big Four leaders to report on the summit failure. President Eisenhower reported to the American people last week that "business-like dealings with the Soviet leaders" must continue; British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan made a similar declaration Monday in



GENERAL DE GAULLE

Commons; Khrushchev in Moscow Saturday softened his tone somewhat.

"What is necessary yesterday will remain so tomorrow," De Gaulle told Frenchmen.

"Relaxation of tension, controlled disarmament of engines of strategic range, the cooperation of well-supplied states for the development of those who are not, remain—as much as ever—the goals that the four world powers owe it to themselves and to the universe to realize together."

De Gaulle said that in a period when the sky is criss-crossed by satellites, rockets and planes capable of taking photographs of any region of the globe, reciprocal control of these machines is needed.

He said it appeared excessive to demand public excuses from Washington for the plane incident at the very moment Moscow had launched a new space ship which passed 18 times daily over the West.

Final Count Is Tabulated For Death Toll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic	367
Boating	48
Drowning	77
Miscellaneous	87
Total	579

The death toll from traffic accidents across the nation during the three-day Memorial Day weekend narrowly missed setting a record for the holiday.

The final count was 367. The record of 371 traffic deaths was counted during the 1958 three-day holiday.

But the over-all toll of 579 deaths including traffic and those resulting from boating, drowning and miscellaneous accidents, far surpassed the previous Memorial weekend record of 504 set in 1947.

The National Safety Council had estimated before the start of the holiday at 6 p.m., local time, Friday that 375 lives would be lost in traffic accidents before the holiday ended at midnight Monday.

Three separate traffic crashes alone claimed a total of 15 lives during the holiday observance.

The nation's worst accident occurred Monday near Cambridge, Ohio, when a trailer-truck and a passenger car collided head-on, killing all six occupants of the car.

A two-car crash Monday night near Pottstown, Pa., took the lives of four young men and a young woman and injured four other persons.

Near Evanston, Wyo., four women died and at least 20 other passengers were injured Monday night when a Greyhound bus slammed into the rear of a parked trailer-truck.

The number of persons killed in traffic during the holiday was 37 more than was counted in a non-holiday survey by The Associated Press during a similar 78-hour weekend period in mid-May. The toll then was 330.

Amana DELUXE FREEZER

Outsells And Outperforms Amana All Others

This is the greatest statement ever made, with proof by either a dealer of manufacturer — come in and let the Amana people show why Amana is guaranteed to outperform all others

Amana Fact 1

Amana reserve power and efficiency brings temperature down to 0 degree F. faster and safer than all others tested. Because Amana is engineered and designed and built to be a fine food freezer—not just a "holding cabinet" that "feels" cold.

Amana Fact 2

Amana maintains an even 0 degree temperature. Amana has 6 "fast" freezing surfaces of solid aluminum with the cold coils brazened to each. All foods are either directly in contact with, or directly below these "FAST FREEZING" Shelves. Amana reaches and maintains 0 degree F. temperature—thus protecting your frozen foods from TEMPERATURE DAMAGE.

Amana Fact 3

Amana has uniform food storage temperature — many other freezers have long running cycles which indicate lack of freezing capacity. Amana insures "locked-in" nutritional values because of the even zero degree temperature throughout.

"Even Zero Temperature Is The Key To Safe Food Preservation"

We Have A Large Stock Of Freezers On Hand For This Sale And They Must Be Sold by the Time the Amana Freezerama Leaves Town.

Small deeds done are better than great deeds planned.

Marriage Wrecks

IF anyone doubts there's a mountain of misery in this world, he need only contemplate Montgomery county's divorce statistics.

During the first four months of this year, there were 229 petitions for divorce filed in the local courts, contrasted with 741 marriage licenses issued in the county. That means almost one out of three marriages goes on the rocks.

When love turns to hate at these shocking rates, something is grievously wrong with the era in which we live.

Corny though the words may sound, the home, where love endures and children are raised up in the way that they should go, remains the foundation of our society.

Doubtless it is no coincidence that widespread marriage instability occurs in an atmosphere of growing adult irresponsibility on many other fronts. Marriage is to many couples more a business partnership than a spiritual union, more a social accommodation than a God-ordained way of life.

The cost of wrecked marriages is high in adult despair, but the most lamentable cost is that of unhappy and emotionally injured children.

How sad that there should be so many tragedies!

Divorce, especially at its level in Montgomery county, is an imperative problem for our churches, social workers, educators and practitioners of other disciplines that prepare couples for the altar and help to keep them united.

Age of Ease

TOO many people, says Dr. Willis M. Tate, president of Southern Methodist university, are getting the notion that "hard work is something vulgar which nice folks manage to avoid."

Have you noticed it, too?

The zenith of success portrayed by our advertisements is a man without worries who is reclining in a soft chair with a beautiful girl waiting on him," noted Dr. Tate in addressing the National Council of Young Men's Christian associations recently in Buffalo, N. Y.

There are, indeed, signs—from the shrinking work week to the sight of men riding while they mow their lawns— that we're growing lazier.

Diligence, energy and zeal for hard work, have always been a main pillar of happiness, progress and rectitude. Laws like this can't be repealed. Without hard work there can be no enduring self-respect; without it life can only be an empty shell.

Dr. Tate did well to state his misgivings about the age of ease.

Chores

A professor at Pennsylvania State university says there is absolutely no relation between the number and kind of chores a child is assigned and the sense of responsibility he shows later as an adult.

"Indeed," said the professor, "from some of our data there is a suggestion that too many urgent and serious duties, assumed too early, can have an adverse effect on children."

Most parents have enough trouble standing on their feet without someone pulling the rug out from under them.

Doing the dishes, dusting the furniture and feeding the pets may not make a child a better adult, but it will at least get the dishes washed, the furniture dusted and the pets fed.

Political Payola

WE'VE all heard about "payola"—device where, according to the revelations of a Congressional investigating body, disc jockeys obtained large sums of money along with valuable gifts from record companies in return for plugging the product.

This, coming on the heels of the TV quiz-show scandals, has left a bad taste in the mouths of millions and millions of Americans.

But there's another form of "payola" that is far more important. Congressman Halleck deserves the credit for calling attention to it.

He describes the avalanche of proposed multi-billion dollar spending bills as "political payola." In his words, they "simply hand out the taxpayer's money to buy votes for the next election."

If the "political payola" groups have their way, there won't be a budget surplus. In all probability, there'll be a deficit instead.

Then we'll have more inflation—and, ultimately, still more and higher taxes.

How does that prospect strike you?

PUNKIN CORNERS,

Editor, The Mercury,

Wal, I see by the papers where Mohammed V, the king of Morocco, has just named himself his own prime minister. Elected, as it were, by a one-man landslide.

Urges Prayers For Peace

Desires Peace

To the Editor: Every night I say a prayer, asking God to please let me live to see the morning sun. For the people of the United States are staring death squarely in the face.

Today, we are a nation living in fear. Fear of world powers, leaders and war. There has always been this attitude and feeling; possibly it will continually be present. At least until the people of the world have completely destroyed themselves.

If war comes, I do not want to die. I pray that I will live through it. I pray that God will give me the strength to pick myself up, bearing in mind this horrible experience, and build a better world for the children that may someday be mine.

But the world's future is not in my hands. I do not want war.

I love life and I love people too much to see them decay from radiation.

I want only peace. Peace for today and more important, for tomorrow. Is that too much to ask.

Am I living in a dream world when I say, "I want peace"?

Pottstown MORRIS OLDT

Pray for Leaders

To the Editor: We all want world survival, national survival, and, of course, our own. History shows us that Christianity and all other major religions have lasted through the centuries, with only one weapon—love. Nations, with all their tremendous arsenals and fear and hate, have come and gone.

Please pray for the guidance of our leaders, whoever they may be, that they may find understanding of other national leaders, and that every individual may use love, instead of fear and hate.

Douglassville S.O.C.

Who Pays for Gift?

To the Editor: There is the problem of what to do with Eisenhower's gift of a cabin cruiser to Khrushchev.

What I want to know is, just who is paying for this gift?

If it is Eisenhower, he is being overpaid as President and should receive a salary cut.

If it is the taxpayer, I find what I am thinking not fit to write!

Pennsburg CLAM

Glad Meet Was Torpedoed

To the Editor: I've been very much opposed to Eisenhower attending summit or any other kind of meetings with the reds. I was afraid he would make concessions to them that would put the whammy on us. Remember Roosevelt and Truman made concessions to "good old Joe" at Yalta and Potsdam that hurt us badly. Some one at Washington said Ike went to Paris to make some concessions to the reds. The red soaked United Nations would supervise the plans. Remember the mess the U. N. pulled off in Korea?

I am glad to learn we had planes spying on the reds, and that Khrushchev torpedoed the summit conference at Paris. I can snooze much better these nights.

Spring City SLEEPER

Either Way, We're in Jam

To the Editor: You don't have to worry or wait to know what political party any speaker television belongs to these days.

If he's praising the U-2 incident, and the masterful way the summit meeting was handled, and how it all resulted in saving our country, you know, of course, he's a Republican.

If on the other hand the speaker is crying in his beer and wringing his hands, saying what a deplorable thing the U-2 was and what a disaster was the summit meeting, you know whithout question he's a Democrat, expecting you to elect him to save our country.

They're all a bunch of meat heads, with their hands on their pocketbooks. Nobody is thinking or talking for the good of our country.

PEGGY MALEY, back in town after several seasons on the West coast, tells chums she's furnishing "the maddest pad in New York" on East 56th street. Until it's ready for occupancy, she'll rough it with Gregg Sherwood Dodge at the Waldorf Towers.

Collier Young about to be divorced from Joan Fontaine, is proving he's not depressed by dating actress Ann Carroll.

France Nuyen, in Hong Kong when Irving Hoffman was making his personal appearance there, asked him to give her the jacket he wore to celebrate Chinese New Year. It was much too big for her, and he wanted to have it tailored to her size before making the presentation—but France said no, she preferred it floppy. His guess: she really wanted it as a present for Marlon Brando.

CONNOISSEURS of fancy panties will be delighted by this news: Gussie Moran will star in exhibitions at Westhampton's Bath and Tennis club this Summer.

Art Farmer and Benny Golson have made a wonderful new jazz album on the Argo label—titled "Meet the Jazztet".

If you think life has become too much to bear, get ready for the final blow: A British comedian is called (really!) Cuddly Dudley.

Andy Williams' drumbeaters are giving out the word that he's wanted for a road company of "Bye Bye Birdie"—for the Dick Van Dyke role—but that seems ridiculous. No musical comedy road company could pay him enough to forsake what he earns in hotels and night clubs. As an example: he's going into the Waldorf in the Fall, a far more logical move than touring with the second company of a Broadway show.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

ALAN J., aged 37, is a banker who is now the president of the men's club of his local church.

"Dr. Crane, we should like some suggestions by which we can increase the effectiveness of our church," he began.

"What would you recommend for pepping up attendance at the Sunday school, etc?

"A church occupies a very expensive real estate site, so we'd like to make ours return greater dividends to the community."

The Sunday school is the most important part of the church. It's the recruiting ground for the future.

So I advised Alan to enlist the aid of somebody with a motion picture machine and run a 10 minute educational movie promptly at 9:30 o'clock each Sunday morning.

THIS WILL stimulate the children to arrive promptly and also cause them to invite their friends.

A number of churches have used this method with admirable results. It almost doubled the attendance in one of them in Evanston, Ill., and brought the children out promptly.

Inject more competition, too, for it is the human yeast that adds zest to religious activity, as well as to sports and business. Without competition, things are as flat as unleavened bread.

Divide your Sunday school into teams and then run a contest that is simple to tabulate.

Pick out 100 people who attend very seldom if ever. Divide these names between the two competing groups. Then allot 5 points for each one brought out for Sunday School.

Make the contest short—say four weeks, and pay off quickly after its completion, for children need their rewards the sooner the better.

CONTESTS ARE like advertising in that they must be varied in nature for maximum interest value but continued constantly.

Don't expect one contest of four weeks duration to keep attendance up for the rest of the year. So offer a new contest as soon as the previous one has terminated.

Then organize a group of "minute men and women," possibly of teen-agers, each pair of whom is to be assigned one or two city blocks. Let the pair take a church census thereof, and each week make the rounds urging everybody to attend church or Sunday school.

Those that belong to other churches can be directed into their own denominations. But the non-church members can then be invited to Alan's church.

STARRLITEM: Steve Allen was asked by a lady in the audience if he wore a toupee. "The hair's my own," said Allen. "It's the head that's fake!"

"Wrangler," another Western, based on adventures of a man named "Pitcairn" will replace "The Ford Show" beginning June 7.

How's this for a back breaking schedule? During the three weeks Gisele MacKenzie has headlined the show at the Coconut Grove she has recorded two albums. She's been rehearsing ice-skating routines for her appearance Thursday on NBC's "Summer On Ice" which will co-star Tab Hunter, and will be hosted by Craig Stevens.

I saw the show being taped and was thrilled by the talent of the skaters, the humor and beauty of this particular show,—a swift endearing skating spectacular that should delight the audience. Following the Grove run, Gisele leaves for Kansas City and the famed Starlight theater where she will begin rehearsals for her starring role in "The King and I" . . . And that's what I call action.

JACK BENNY wrote a foreword to George Jessel's new book, "Jessel Anyone?" in which he praises him for his eulogies. "One of the nicest eulogies I ever heard him deliver was when one of James Mason's cats passed away. A lot of us in the profession were there, and a few furriers too, and there was not a dry eye when George finished eulogizing that cat. I never knew cats had done so much for Israel and the Democrats. Anyway, when Jessel was through, the entire audience purred."

The big news from the "Gunsmoke" headquarters is their star, Jim Arness who is the winner of the 1960 Silver Spurs Award, considered the Oscar of the "Western" entertainment industry.

The Reno Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the award, broke a ten-year precedent by going outside the motion picture industry to name the most popular Western star (recipients include John Wayne, Jimmy Stewart and Gary Cooper).

CHARLTON HESTON finished up his "Ben-Hur" tour in Australia and is ready to beging work on his CBS taping of "Caeser" which co-stars Trevor Howard, Wendy Hiller, Richard Burton and Robert Morley. The "special," directed by Orson Welles, will be telecast sometime in July or August instead of late May.

New "Alice in Wonderland" series with Clarence Greene and Russell Rouse producing will debut in the Fall.

At the Cloister Tony Bennett opening: Debbie Reynolds, Ginger Rogers, Bobby Darin, who had just closed there, introduced his competitor; Jerry Lewis, Steve Allen, Fabian, Jayne Meadows, Jack Benny, Elvis Presley, Shirley Jones and others.

Interpreting The News

East Berlin Reds Grow Desperate

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

Atop the massive Brandenburg Gate the heroic figure of Nike, goddess of victory, towers over a drab scene of regimentation.

The four chargers of Nike's mighty chariot face eastward.

The huge Brandenburg Gate, portal for a long and violent flow of history, is just inside the boundary of East Berlin. For those who pass beneath it, it is like going from one world to another.

Beyond the gate, nearly half Berlin is ruled by communism. But the Communists desperately want the whole city. They have reason for desperation.

West Berlin, isolated 110 miles inside Communist-dominated territory, is an open window for the East upon a free way of life. Flourishing West Berlin is the chief avenue of escape for a constant stream of refugees from communism. Their average age is 24. The refugees include many intellectuals, engineers, scientists, doctors and skilled workers. East Germany is bleeding steadily.

West Berlin is a challenge, too. Its continued existence in freedom suggests to 17 million Germans behind the Iron Curtain that Red domination of every aspect of their daily lives is not necessarily a permanent affliction.

The man who rules as gauleiter for the Kremlin, Walter Ulbricht, gives every indication that he is eager to eliminate this impression of impermanence. But Ulbricht's desires have come into conflict with long-range Soviet policy.

There is every reason to believe that Ulbricht, 67, bearded first secretary of the East German Communists, had looked eagerly forward to the summit meeting in Paris as the beginning of a process which would eliminate one major source of his headaches.

Ulbricht has been impatient for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to perform on his promise to sign a separate peace treaty with the Red German Democratic Republic. He has wanted it made clear to East Germans that a Communist German state is a permanent, irrevocable thing. And he has wanted this as a first step toward applying the pressure on West Berlin which might eventually envelop it.

Ulbricht was disappointed.

Khrushchev left Paris like a lion and arrived in Berlin like a lamb. He would not, he said, sign a separate treaty now. The East Germans would have to wait. Perhaps there would be another try at a summit conference in six or eight months.

West Berlin is far more important to Ulbricht and its Communists as a prize than it would be to the Soviet Communist party. To Moscow, Berlin is a piece in a chess game of world politicians. Khrushchev wants West Berlin placed beyond the protection of the Western Allies, but he does not propose to risk total war to achieve that. The Soviets can well afford to wait until 1965 or even longer, if necessary.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

June, Moon, Spoon... Month of Brides...

★ JUNE — The month of brides is here. With it comes a few hints from a beauty specialist to the gals who'll middle-aisle it. Says this expert: Don't wear bright nail polish—keep it a soft-toned or pale pink . . . Don't have too fresh a permanent wave. Don't have the hair too long—a soft mid-length is more flattering with veil and cap . . . Don't wear a heavy perfume—use colognes. Light floral fragrances are best . . . Don't have a faddish haircut—your pictures will be 'dated' . . . Don't pencil or arch your eyebrows too thin . . .Have a simple easy-to-care-for permanent wave and hair dress . . . Don't wear heavy jewelry, wear pearls, real jewelry, heirlooms, or quaint modest jewelry . . . Wear a soft flattering make-up.

DAY — June brings Flag Day, too. The Stars and Stripes was adopted as the national flag of the US on June 14, 1777, by a resolution of the Second Continental Congress. But why red, white and blue? The Founding Fathers may have been influenced by the flag of the British East India company, a group of merchants orgainzed for exploration and trade. Their flag bore seven red and six white stripes. In 1782 the US department of state explained the colors this way: red stands for hardiness and courage, white is a symbol of purity and innocence, and blue is the color of vigilance, perseverance and justice. . . .

★ ACCORDING TO legend, however, George Washington gave us a more dramatic explanation when he reportedly said: "We take the stars and blue union from Heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty." . . .

THE ORIGINAL "Old Glory" was a world traveler, a refugee from the Confederacy, and a souvenir of the Smithsonian institution. A young sea captain named William Driver introduced the nickname in 1831, when he was given command of the brig "Charles Doggett." A group of citizens of Salem, Mass., presented him with a U.S. flag and he hailed it as "Old Glory." Driver traveled twice around the world with the flag, according to World Book Encyclopedia. When he retired in 1837, he took the flag with him to Nashville, Tenn., where the name "Old Glory" spread. During the Civil War the flag was sewed inside a bed quilt to hide it from Confederate troops. When Union soldiers took Nashville in 1862, Driver brought out the flag and it was raised over the state Capitol. In 1922, "Old Glory" retired to the Smithsonian institution in Washington, D. C. . .

★ FLAG DAY was established as an annual national celebration in 1916 by President Woodrow Wilson. It is not an official national holiday, but the President proclaims a public observance every year. . . . Not even the President of the US can be saluted by dipping the national flag. The US flag may be dipped in courtesy to another nation, but, unlike some other national flags, never to an individual. . . . The US is flagmaker to the world. America's skilled flag makers manufacture the flags of more than 150 countries. . . . The headquarters of the United Nations in New York, where the UN flag is supreme, is the only place within the US, its territories or possessions where a flag may be displayed in a position of higher prominence or honor than the US flag.

Your Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

IT'S TIME for another monthly report on some of the latest advances in the medical field.

Today I want to tell you about a synthetic oral penicillin, a new type of nose drop and the use of ultraviolet radiation to help prevent infection in operating rooms.

The synthetic penicillin reportedly produces blood serum levels about twice as high as some other types of penicillin. It was introduced to the medical profession just recently.

The drug, Maxipen, is available, of course, by prescription only. It is used in treating penicillin-susceptible infections including tonsillits, laryngitis, bronchitis impetigo, gonorrhea, pneumococcal pneumonia and others.

Researchers report it is rapidly absorbed from the gastrointestinal tract and may be administered without regard to meals.

The double-acting nose drop, Trypp, employs the enzyme trypsin to restore normal vascular function.

The enzyme factor dissolves mucous secretions to facilitate drainage and also shrinks swollen mucous membranes.

Researchers report that the drops are effective in treating sinusitis, the common cold and nasal allergies.

Once again I want to emphasize that I don't believe anyone should use nose drops indiscriminately. If you think they might be helpful, ask your doctor what he recommends.

Use of ultraviolet radiation to kill antibiotic-resistant bacteria in operating rooms is not a new process. Duke hospital at Durham N.C., has been doing it in as many as 15 operating rooms for 20 years.

The practice, however, is not widespread. And recently it was brought to the attention of hospitals across the nation by an article in the Journal of the American Medical association.

Ultraviolet radiation acts to keep operating room infections to a bare minimum by killing bacteria in the air. Obviously, keeping pathogenic bacteria out of a clean wound is better than trying to control their growth or to kill them after they enter.

Destroying bacteria floating in the air offers protection whether the bacteria originates in the respiratory tract of operating room personnel, contamination of the room, blankets or clothing or air from other sections of the hospital.

Price of Hatred Is Destruction Speaker Says

"Human hate is not bound by national boundaries," Charles E. Wilson, manager of the Eastern office of the Moody Bible institute, told members of the Kiwanis club Tuesday during its weekly meeting at the Elks club.

Wilson showed slides of Germany during and shortly after

CHARLES E. WILSON

World War II. His talk was titled "The Fall of a Great Nation."

He described the various incidents when swastikas were painted on churches and synagogs in the United States and said the swastikas, indicating hate, were found painted on churches in 34 countries.

The rise of Hitler which ultimately led to the murder of six million Jews was described by Wilson. He told of the destruction that was wrought in Germany by allied bombs and fighting men and said that the price of hatred is often self destruction.

"WE SHOULD remember how a great nation like Germany fell," Wilson said.

Wilson was a member of the chaplain's corps during the war and served with General Patton's Third Army. During his service he traveled widely in Europe and, as an ardent amateur photographer, took many pictures of the war's destruction.

Willard Bickel, president, presided at the meeting and Robert Leiby, chairman of the public and business affairs committee, arranged the program.

Christmas Tree Donor Is Given Five to Ten Year Jail Sentence

Nazareth hospital in Philadelphia will have to buy its own Christmas trees for the next five to ten years.

The donor of $75 worth of trees this past Christmas was given that many years in jail Tuesday after pleading guilty to passing 48 forged checks worth $2000—one of which went to purchase the trees.

Martin Lees, 38, formerly of Royersford, told Judge Charles L. Guerin, of Quarter Sessions court, that he didn't know what made him forge the checks.

"There is something wrong with me. I need help," he said.

LAST CHRISTMAS Lees bought $75 worth of Christmas trees for the hospital with a check for $137.85—pocketing the change as he did when he purchased batteries for non-existent automobiles or arranged banquets to which no one was invited.

He was arrested Jan. 9 by Philadelphia police after a career that stretched across much of the Eastern seaboard. He was charged at a preliminary hearing with cashing over $4100 in forged checks.

Lee was wanted on similar charges at the time of his arrest in Royersford, where his family still lived, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Phoenixville.

Chief Bryson Turner, of the Royersford police, reported at the time of his arrest that Lee was wanted for passing three bad checks in June, 1959. The checks, issued under the name Sidney Onnstein, were forged on Plotts Brothers for $69, Home Water company for $62 and Andrew A. Kurtas for $47.

CHIEF TURNER said Lees lived in Royersford from Dec. 24, 1958, until just after he cashed the checks. He reappeared several times to visit his family, but Chief Turner was never able to apprehend him.

At a hearing a week after his arrest, a detective said he had passed a total of $4181.84 in a three months period. The check he used to purchase the trees was stolen from St. Joseph's hospital, New York City, where he worked as an orderly.

At the hearing when the judge asked if the victims were present, several of the 50 complaints replied. "We suckers are all here."

Lees once paid for a filet mignon and champagne banquet in advance and pocketed the change. The banquet was probably the quietest on record.

Engineer Explains Mine Operations

James Parks, head mining engineer at Grace Iron Mines, Morgantown, explained mining operations to members of the Lions club Tuesday during its weekly meeting at Brookside Country club.

Parks discussed and showed slides of surface and underground operations of the mines and said the ore in the Grace mines will last for at least another 25 years.

He said the mines go some 3000 feet deep and ore from them supply three large Bethlehem Steel company plants in Pennsylvania.

During the business meeting Emanuel Berman, 1010 Hale street, was inducted into the club by Tilghman K. Hauseman, deputy district governor and member of the Pottstown club.

Carroll Harp, president, was in charge of the meeting.

are expenses like renting a tuxedo and accessories for the formal prom ($10), and buying a corsage ($5), according to Thomas Boyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Boyer, 31 East Fifth street.

"Our class trip to New York city last Friday was $15, and you need an extra $10 for spending money," Boyer said. "Another expense is the class dues, $2 each year. Many kids let the dues go unpaid until they become Seniors. But they must be paid for all three years before you can graduate."

Terry Kohler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Kohler, 337 King street, adds, "I guess some guys get a new suit or sport coat around commencement. It also takes money just to apply for entering college. You usually have to file $10 or $15 with your application, and you have travel expenses when you go for an interview."

A MODERATE ESTIMATE of the expenses reads like this: Class trip (including bus fare, meals and spending money) $25, senior pictures $25, class ring $16.50, class dues (Senior year only) $2, commencement announcements $3, name cards $2.50, yearbook $5, admission to all-night party after commencement (with guest) $3.

Many girls can add $50 or $60 to this for clothing, etc., making a total of more than $130.

Most of the male members of the class can count on spending a similar additional amount for clothing, dating expense, and so on.

All of the cost is not borne by parents, however. "A lot of the Seniors work at part-time jobs," says Shirley Mae Rinewalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Rinewalt, 1139 South street.

Boyer points out, "Between a third and a half of the guys work, or do odd jobs like cutting grass or washing cars."

ing highway fatalities for May: One killed in Lower Merion, May 1; one killed in Limerick township, May 2; one killed in Upper Moreland township, May 21; five killed in Limerick township, May 30; and one killed in Abington township, May 31.

The total of 10 for May compares with 4 April fatalities in the county.

The bodies of those killed in Monday's accident near Limerick today were consigned to funeral directors in the cities in which relatives of the victims reside. The Norman D. Holcombe Funeral home, Trappe, took the bodies from the scene of the accident.

Casey died at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday, 11 hours after the crackup. He had been pronounced in critical condition at Memorial with possible internal injuries, a fractured nose and cuts of the left arm.

He had been engaged to marry Viola Adams, who was with him in the front seat of the car and was killed. A hospital spokesman said the couple was to be married next week.

Of the four survivors of the crash, one remains in serious condition at the Valley Forge General hospital. He is John Durkin, 18, of Germantown, who was originally admitted to Memorial hospital with head injuries. He was transferred to Valley Forge hospital Monday night.

Card Collectors Have Their Trials

series. And each series is a mixture of various players from both the National and American leagues.

"SOMETIMES we have to wait three or four weeks for a series to come out and we really have to be quick to get them because the stores sell out so fast," Michael said.

He explained that the purpose was to try and get a complete team and proudly said that in 1958 and 1959 he had a complete set of the Phillies. "This year I have every Philly card out so far, but we're only in the fourth series," he said.

To tell what players are in a series, the manufacturers insert a check list in a pack at the beginning of each series giving the team name and its players.

The value of the cards depends on the collectors team preference and how well a player is doing. A player with a high batting average is more valuable than one on the bottom of the batting list.

And if a player gets in a slump, his value can drop like a sinker ball.

ONE OF the most disturbing things to happen during the collecting season is for a player to be traded, particularly after he has already been on a card. This puts him in a collection in the wrong uniform. But that's the way this business goes.

Michael gives an example of the tragedy of the game. He said the former hurler for the Phillies, Taylor Phillips, was hard to find. "I would have traded for him but I didn't need to. One day I was walking to the bus stop and I found him lying right there on the ground."

There was a said tone to Michael's voice as he talked about Phillips. He was recently farmed out to a minor league team.

"I had to give up seven cards for Gene Conley (another Phillies pitcher) and have paid as high at ten to 20 for others," he said.

MICHAEL said the card he would most like to have now is the one of Tony Curry, an outfielder for the Phillies, who is the leading rookie batter and "one of the fastest men in the National league.

"I sure would like to get him. He would be even more valuable than Mickey Mantle who is in a slump now. I'd be willing to pay as much as they want unless it was up to 50 cards," Michael said.

There are dangers to the collecting game, Michael explained. He reluctantly admitted that there are some collectors who take the cards to school . . . to trade them.

"But you better watch out for teachers. If you're caught you lose your cards."

Another way to lose a card is to play a flipping game called odds or evens. For example, one contestant will announce to the other before a flip that he wants evens. The boys then flip and if the cards both come up with the same side showing, the even wins. If opposite sides come up, that's odd, and the card is lost.

Michael's father said that he helps Michael collect the cards by taking him to the store when the different series come out. "We have to scour the area sometimes to get some of the cards," Newman said.

Newman said that probably like most other parents with card collectors in the family, he hopes that Michael does not start collecting the monster cards.

So, there are four more series to go and four months of waiting and trading. With the leagues continuing to trade the players and batting averages moving up and down like the temperature, it's going to be an exciting season for collectors.

Truck Tag Deadline Is Moved Ahead

License plates must be on trucks by midnight Saturday, the Pottstown Auto club announced Tuesday.

Originally tags had to be on by midnight Tuesday, but because all the tags could not be issued by that time, an extension was given by the Bureau of Motor vehicles, Harrisburg.

Summer Band Program Set at Owen J. Roberts

Area high school bands better look to their laurels.

The Northern Chester County Joint School board Tuesday night approved a Summer band program for aspiring Owen J. Roberts bandsmen. The program, open to any pupils desiring to join the band in the Fall, will be from June 27 to Aug. 5.

The board also approved the school calendar for pupils and teachers. The teachers will start Sept. 1 and pupils Sept. 6. Classes will end June 7 for pupils and two days later for teachers.

The board accepted the resignation of Donald B. Stetter as graphic arts teacher and Clarence A. Lynn Jr., as junior high school mathematics teacher, and elected Elizabeth Marie LaPoint as a member of the business education department.

THE HIRING of teachers in the following subjects due to increased enrolment was approved: librarian, junior high school science, and senior high school English.

Openings in homemaking, junior high school mathematics and graphic arts were also announced by Paul Grim, supervising principal.

The meeting, in the Owen J. Roberts High school library, was presided over by William M. Hall, president.

Barto Fire Company Approves Purchase

The Barto Fire company approved the purchase of an $800 fire hose at a meeting in the fire hall Tuesday night.

The company also decided to participate in the annual zone six parade in Oley June 4.

Fifteen members were present at the meeting in charge of Ralph Gehman, president.

transferred to Montgomery hall this morning to await action by county juvenile authorities.

MOTOR PATROLMAN Lorin Leuthold said he gave chase after he noticed the car being driven in an erratic manner at the intersection of Charlotte and East streets shortly after 9 p. m. Bauer was driving.

Leuthold said the boys let the car glide into a parking spot on Wilson street between Washington and Hale streets and jumped from it.

Shawell took off through a yard. Bauer ran down Wilson street.

Patrolman Leuthold shot four bullets into the air as the youth ran through a field near the new Senior High school at Wilson and Washington streets. At this point Bauer gave himself up.

Shawell, in the meantime, had disappeared. He later came into borough hall and surrendered about 10:30.

Stock Market Seen In Need Of Dramatic New Development

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market needs a dynamic new development—such as a reduction in margin requirements—to push it up, the Fitch Survey, a financial analyst, said Tuesday.

Fitch pointed out that there is a strong overhead supply of stock in the Dow Jones industrial average range between 625 and 630 which so far has proved a barrier to further advance.

There has been much talk recently that the Federal Reserve Board is on the verge of cutting the current margin of 90 per cent to 70 per cent and perhaps even to 50. Margin is the amount of money a buyer has to put up to purchase stock.

Fitch feels that an early margin reduction might add fuel to the market's attempt to make further progress. Records show that a drop in margin requirements has been followed by a fall in the market and then a rise.

"However," it adds, "there is no doubt that the Federal Reserve is also considering the effect of too large a cut in margin requirements on market trading and speculation.

"The considered opinion is that if any cut does materialize, it will be of a minor nature."

Fitch finds the market in an anticipatory frame of mind and believes that with the slightest encouragement it could advance substantially.

Standard & Poor's Corp. commented that the fast-changing tempo of international events and the tenor of business news suggest that the market may need more time to consolidate its position before advancing.

"The market may move irregularly for a while with the combination of emphasis on growth and defensive issues its most striking aspect," the analyst said.

"With much of the rolling business adjustments completed, however, it does not appear to be seriously vulnerable and it should give a better performance this summer."

Boy, 9, Admits Setting Blaze

A nine year old area youngster has admitted starting the general alarm fire that gutted a March-Brownback warehouse at South and Charlotte streets the past Friday night.

David Hatmaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Iral Hatmaker, Lake road, Sanatoga, was turned over to Police Chief Harold Hahn Saturday night by his father.

The boy was released in custody of his parents pending action by county juvenile authorities.

According to the boy, he and an older brother, Franklin, 12, were playing in the warehouse. Franklin spilled a drum of gasoline over the floor.

THAT EVENING David returned to the warehouse. Chief Hahn said the blaze flared up when the boy struck a match to a piece of paper and ignited the spilled gasoline.

The result was a fire that brought out more than 120 firemen and a dozen pieces of equipment. Two firemen were injured battling the blaze.

The Hatmaker boys were visiting with their grandmother, Mrs. Mary Powell, 66 South Charlotte street, when the incident occurred.

4 Year Old Boy Struck by Car

A four year old Stowe boy was injured Tuesday at 1:15 p.m. when he was struck by a car in front of his home.

David Allen Pota, 417 Glasgow street, suffered head cuts in the accident, and he may have a fractured skull and a broken left leg. He was in satisfactory condition at Memorial hospital Tuesday night.

The youngster was hit by a car driven by Charles W. Linderman, Kulp road, Pottstown RD 1. Police said the boy apparently dashed across the street in front of the auto.

The accident was witnessed by the child's mother, Mrs. Joseph Pota.

Patrolman William McCann investigated.

Parking Lot Attendant Sues for $100,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Frank Sinatra and Sammy Davis Jr.'s road manager were sued for $100,000 Tuesday by a parking lot attendant who says the singer and the husky Negro maliciously and violently attacked him.

Edward Moran's Superior Court action stems from a ruckus at the Moulin Rouge parking lot after the he told newsmen:

FRANK SINATRA

"There was a mixup in the parking lot and I just separated a couple of guys, that's all. It wasn't Frank's fault at all."

The argument began after another parking attendant braked a car too close to Sinatra while the crooner was standing on a driveway curb.

Purse Found With $1050 And Worms

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Dennis Waks, 22, threw a wild pitch and became a $1,050 "bonus baby" for Jessie Freeman.

Dennis and William McCory, 8, were playing catch when a toss by Dennis scored a strike in a storm sewer catch basin. The boys lifted the lid and Dennis retrieved the ball—and a woman's purse containing $1,050 in U. S. savings bonds.

Police identified the purse and the bonds as those of Mrs. Freeman, a purse snatching victim last Dec. 9 in downtown Decatur.

Dennis was elated with his find: "Boy, more than a thousand bucks," he exclaimed.

William had other thoughts. "Gosh, Denny," he said, leaving the police station, "did you see all the fish worms in that purse."

Willie Mays Buys $75,000 Home

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. — (AP)—Ballplayer Willie Mays who met some opposition to his settling in a white San Francisco, Calif., neighborhood, has bought a big home in a choice section of suburban New Rochelle.

Willie Mays

The $75,000, 15-room house at 90 Croft terrace was transferred to Mays without any apparent ruffle in this fashionable Westchester county community just north of New York city.

Stage Strike Imminent

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway producers made their first wage offer Tuesday to Actors Equity. But the stage union indicated it was not enough to prevent a strike Wednesday night.

Terms of the wage bid from the League of New York Theaters were not made public. The offer did not include a pension plan, which has been the main stumbling block in negotiations on behalf of 11,000 Equity members.

Equity agreed to continue negotiations past the midnight expiration of their old contract. But they already had served notice that the 17-member cast of Paddy Chayefsky's "The Tenth Man" will be called out of the Booth Theater on W. 45th St. before curtain time Wednesday. Producer Alexander H. Cohen replied:

"Every show in town will be closed Thursday night if they pull 'The Tenth Man' Wednesday night."

Equity previously had announced a hit-and-run policy of striking one show at a time. The producers league said it would retaliate by closing all 22 current Broadway shows.

Currently 1,000 of Equity's members are working in New York, plus 150 on the road. Also affected by any walkout would be about 5,000 members of allied crafts — stagehands, musicians, electricians and the like.

Broadway has not had a complete shutdown of its legitimate theaters since the Equity organization strike of 1919.

Producers claimed Equity's pension demands would force an increase of at least 25 per cent in ticket prices that already run to a $9.90 top. However, the league said it might satisfy Equity pension demands if the city would drop its 5 per cent ticket tax, which would then be diverted to pensions. Mayor Robert F. Wagner said consideration was being given the suggestions.

'Beverage Pause' May Spark Fight

WASHINGTON — The "beverage pause," as it is known in Philadelphia, is the basis of a threatening labor - management battle this Summer.

A clause in union contracts requiring hotels and restaurants here to provide three bottles of beer, free, to all cooks each day is under fire by proprietors.

Union official stoutly defend the custom, a feature of every agreement since the first pact in 1939, as necessary to keep the cooks from becoming overheated in steamy kitchens.

The issue may come up at negotiations between the Washington Hotel association and Cooks, Pastry Cooks and Kitchen Employes local 209 (AFL-CIO). The contract expires in September.

Labor department experts say that brewers have been serving beer to their employes since the Middle Ages. Under the C-PC-KE contract this is guaranteed and a worker who doesn't get his quota can file a grievance.

For other industries, though, such is not the case. Arbitrators have disclosed that neutral umpires have upheld the discharge of employes accused of bringing beer or liquor into their plants.

Just 3 Glasses of Milk A Day

MILK

. . . helps you live better five ways

1 PROTECTS YOU WITH "ARMORED CALORIES." There is a difference in calories. "Naked" calories—found in sweet, starchy foods—supply only body fuel. With "armored" calories you get proteins, vitamins and calcium in addition to body fuel or energy. Milk contains more highly "armored calories than any other food—makes you feel better, more energetic.

2 PREVENTS LOSS OF PEP WHEN DIETING. Milk is your best source of digestible, low-cost protein, vitamins and calcium which you need for vitality and a sense of well-being. Milk builds strength, no fat. High protein reducing diets built around milk, are comfortable and safe . . . help you feel better, live better.

3 KEEPS YOU FELLING YOUNG. Calcium starvation makes you feel old before your time. Most Americans suffer from this dietary lack. Without calcium, you tend to become nervous and irritable, to have poor teeth and bones. Milk is the only practical source of calcium. Drink at least three glasses every day to get the calcium you need to keep young, vital and strong.

4 EASES NERVOUS TENSION. Tests on numerous children and adults prove that drinking three glasses of milk every day helps reduce fatigue and strain. Milk is good for you, and refreshing. It contains no stimulants that may increase your nervousness. Indeed, it regulates the heart and nervous system to tone the muscles.

5 MAKES YOU SLEEP BETTER. Scientific tests definitely show that a glass of milk before bedtime relaxes you, makes sleep come more quickly, helps you sleep soundly all night through. Milk relaxes the blood vessels, aids circulation, eases the hunger pangs that sometimes causes wakefulness. If you like milk warm, that's even more relaxing.

Clothes Care

By Maurice Miller

"What Do the New Textile Labels Mean?"—Mrs. G. D. S.

Dear Mrs. G. D. S.:

The new textile labels are for your protection against misbranding and false advertising of the fiber content of textile fiber products.

New man-made textiles that resemble natural fibers in feel and appearance, yet act so differently when worn, laundered or drycleaned, have become so numerous that the government has decreed that they should be labeled as to their fiber content. This law, effective March 3, 1960, brought many labeled fabrics on the market as early as August, 1959. The thrifty housewife who wants to get the most from the fabrics she purchases will become familiar with these labels.

It will be well for you, Mrs. G. D. S., to learn the names of these fibers and associate them with established trademarked names. We could list them for you here, but space would not permit it. Your professional drycleaner or launderer can obtain them for you.

Remember, too, that the new law does not make permanent labeling necessary. Therefore, save or copy the hanger tags with the fiber identification information. When you send your garment to be cleaned or laundered, pass this information on to your cleaner. If the tag contains specific information for fabric care, give this to your drycleaner or launderer. It will help him give you better service.

The new labeling law was devised for your protection. It may make you learn a new vocabulary, but it can save you money, disappointment and make you a more valuable purchasing agent for your family.

To solve your fabric problems send your questions to Clothes Care, Madison and Cross Sts., Pottstown, Pa.

DOROTHY SIMONS

IN choosing a bridal gown remember that this, too, is a matter of "who can wear what." If you are a petite little girl a bouffant skirt and lots of lace with touches of brilliants will be beautiful. If you are willowy and tall, a chic high fashion will be stunning. Whether you perfer simple classic lines or a "frilly" gown, whether it's an advanced fashion or something traditional, your wedding gown should "look like you" — it should harmonize with the type girl you are! Your own personal choice will reflect your personality as well. And maybe you think finding this special gown is simple! Visit

THE BRIDE SHOP, 372 High street, and discover the entire fashion picture in gowns for the bride. Their large selection is rather breathtaking at first and I imagine a girl wonders just how in the world to make a choice. But very soon a few gowns are outstandingly suitable, and she is on her way to discovering the most beautiful dress of her lifetime! I wish you could visit The Bride Shop as frequently as I do! You would see so many girls in their wedding gowns — and each a picture of happiness because her gown is lovely, her wedding is well-planned. Did you know that The Bride Shop does all alterations for the bridal party absolutely without charge? And the alterations are so perfect that each dress has that "made for you" look before it leaves the shop. The complete Bridal Consultant service is also without charge. Miss Lenny Holland-Moritz will help you with any questions or porblems and she will give you many tips on planning a wedding. Bride Shop brides are serene and calm in the knowledge that every detail is planned to perfection. And wait until your bridesmaids see the large beautiful selection of dresses for their choice! Absolutely magnificant! The Bride Shop offers this "big store" selection but preserves the individuality of a specialty shop with a "one-of-a-kind" group of fashions. They are open evenings, except Saturday when they close at 5:30. The Bride Shop, warm with atmosphere of friendliness, renders services large and small just for the pleasure of giving.

This may be the most important Summer for maternity wear. I don't ever remember seeing as large a selection of swim suits which can be worn as play suits, or of those wonderfully worry-free coordinates which mix and match, launder in a breeze. If you plan a maternity wardrobe for the warm months, visit

KESSLER'S MATERNITY DEPARTMENT, at their lovely store, 264-266 High street. Here you will discover a large collection of Summer skirts, capri pants, Bermudas and slacks with a fabulous array of tops! Tops are priced from $3.98, with many at that price, so you can put lots of fun in your wardrobe without denting the budget! Kessler's offer so many "extras" to their customers. There's a free monthly baby magazine, a chance to win $10 GIFT CERTIFICATE just by guessing closest to your baby's birth date, free glamorous gift wrapping, free parking at Dick's or Central (no need to buy), and a free candy treat. Oh yes, use your revolving charge which becomes a thirty day or long term account automatically whenever you wish! "ISN'T IT GREAT TO SHOP AT Kessler's!"

Going somewhere? Are you sure you're all packed? I'll bet you haven't forgotten your lovely Summer fashions, the children's toys, or Hubby's golf clubs, but did you remember to pack all the drug store supplies you will need? It's important, so stock up at

SUNSET PHARMACY, located at Moser road just off East High street. Do you remember last year—paying the highest price for all your needs, taking precious time off to find a drug store, or discovering that the things you bought were not fresh? Avoid that annoying mistake this year! Take all your supplies along on your vacation! You can always depend on the quality of supplies from Sunset Pharmacy. Remember to take plenty of sun tan lotion, a pair of sun glasses for each member of the family, a complete first aid kit, aspirin, car sickness pills, bathing caps, smoking needs, film, candy treats, magazines, and get those prescriptions filled before leaving! Sunset Pharmacy has adorable little inexpensive travel aids such as a plastic kit to carry grooming needs. It keeps them together in your suitcase, and it keeps them from "dripping" on other things! If you are taking baby along, as we are this year, stock up on diaper liners or disposable diapers to ease things along the way. Even if you only use "throw-away" diapers part of the time, it's a great saving! Chic little plastic panties can be found for the little miss or mister! They are fashionable for beach wear when baby is dressed in little else than a diaper and sun hat! And clever bibs make "dining out" more fun for everyone! These are just a few of the things I bought to take along on vacation — I imagine you will find many more when you stop to browse at Sunset! Save time, money and effect — take the things you need along on your vacation. Sunset is open every day from 8:30 a. m. until 11:30 p. m. and there's plenty of free parking.

One of the most interesting window displays I've ever seen is a group of recent bridal portraits with an array of lovely china, silver and crystal patterns. The setting is heavenly, the entire scene has an artistic touch. You can see it now at OLIVER LEWIS CHRISTMAN'S, flower and gift shop, at High and Warren streets. You will also see an example of the type portrait MR. JOHN PEIRCE does in oil. This bridal portrait in oil is something new brides, or women who have a lovely wedding photograph can have done. There's a table setting of Wedgwood's gold Florentine with Dirlyte golden-hued silver on an exquisite Belgium lace cloth. (This particular lace cloth is $75.) Others are from $10). Did you know that Wedgewood has 150 bone china patterns in a price range from $13.50 to $85 per place setting? Everyone can afford the luxury of fine English bone china. And Wedgwood is a living tradition, today, as in 1759. Wedgwood's blue embossed pattern, the most famous of all, is on display, as well as Spode's lovely blue "Giesha", Royal Worchester's "Bridal Rose", Spode's "Green Baskets," and many other equally beautiful bone patterns. Williamsburg's Steiff pattern, Stainless by Gensee, and stemware by Dorothy C. Thorpe completes this lovely scene. I hope you'll get a chance to see this artistic window display at Oliver Lewis Christman's!

Recently two doctors recommended a course in typing as the way to spend a profitable Summer for teenagers. For either 15 or 16-year-olds a short business course will be interesting and rewarding. Most teenagers are thankful to their parents afterward, and all enjoy the classes.

THE POTTSTOWN BUSINESS SCHOOL, located at 311 High street, second floor, is offering a typing course specially for teenagers. This would be an ideal way for your youngsters to spend just a little time a day for a few weeks. (And teenagers do become bored during the Summer if there is nothing planned.) Telephone FA 6-5798, or stop at the school daily 8 a. m. until 4 p. m. and register.

The Point Spread...

By WARREN HOWARD
(Mercury Sports Writer)

DICK HEIST, THE BOY RACE promoter and George Marshman of the Hatfield speedway were counting up the rainouts following Ma Nature's laundering of their big Memorial Day show, and the figure now totals an unusual seven in a row.

"Oh well, we'll try again next week," said Heist, who has also attempted three times to put on the Berks county sweepstakes midget show at the Reading Fairgrounds, "Anyhow, I hear it's going to be a beautiful day tomorrow."

DICK HEIST

Three times in succession the Berks County Sweepstakes has given away to Jupiter Pluvius, and there hasn't been a midget race on the track yet. At Hatfield, there were three straight washouts of the stock cars, then the Memorial day show.

The latter had been billed as "Race promoter George Marshman's answer to the Indianapolis 500." There was to have been a midget race, two stock car affairs (one for the modifieds and the co-feature involving the strictly stocks), and a destruction derby.

"AH WELL," said Heist, "you figure about 20 percent for the rain, but then you don't figure to get them all in a row, either." Then without pause, he said, "but then I think it'll straighten out pretty soon now."

The last statement, of course, sounded more like the profound optimism of a promoter. One must be bubbling over with the stuff to become any kind of a promoter. And never allow the thought to cross his mind that he is at the absolute mercy of the elements.

An oddity has been the timing with which the storms struck. Two weeks ago one heat in each the modified and strictly stock events had been run when the rains came. A week later only the first heat of the modifieds had gone into the books.

Naturally then following the pattern, the first event didn't even get started either last Saturday or Monday. Ah well, on to June 26, which is the date billed for the fourth try at the Berks County event, and maybe, just maybe . . .

JOHNNY THOMSON, The Flying Scot from Boyertown, limped into a sixth place finish in Monday's Indianapolis 500 on only three cylinders, as the old valve problem cropped up for the second time since he arrived at the site of the Memorial Day classic.

Thomson's engine "swallowed" a valve while chasing eventual winner Jim Rathmann and second place finisher Roger Ward, forcing a prolonged pit stop which lost the sandy-haired pilot his chance for the victory.

Thomson had moved up from his starting position (17th) into third place at the time the mechanical failure occurred, and held the lead from the 86th through the 95th laps.

The first valve failure Thomson experienced was during the qualifying tests two weeks ago, when a gear in the rear end of the pink Adams Quarter Horse special dropped and a valve blew, forcing him out of the first-day qualifiers.

THAT FAILURE RUINED his chances of using a new-type engine, specially built for this year's race, in which the valve setup was the prime factor. A new version of the same engine the car contained in 1959 was installed and he qualified just a hair slower than Eddie Sachs, who won the pole with a short-lived record.

Thomson heads for Milwaukee next, where he will attempt to duplicate his 1959 victory, then make his first Eastern appearance since his ill-fated Trenton appearance when he runs in a 100-miler at Langhorne, which he terms his "favorite" track.

Actually Thomson's mishap occurred on the 172nd lap, forcing him into the pits for 42 seconds. It was his fourth stop, and an unscheduled one.

Fulton Resigns as Athletic Head At Perkiomen Prep Spring Dinner

George Fulton — athletic director at Perkiomen Prep for the past five years—announced his resignation Tuesday night at the annual Spring sports dinner.

Acting as master of ceremonies at the informal affair, held in the Kriebel hall dining room, Fulton said he was joining the faculty at Morris Hill high school in Rockaway, N. J.

A graduate of Temple university, Fulton came to the Pennsburg school five years ago as an eighth grade teacher of history and geography.

The eighth grade was dropped from the school curriculum three years ago.

SINCE THEN he has been assistant to wrestling coach Harrie Burdan and track coach Dick Weikel. He also coached junior varsity football.

A total of 56 boys received awards at the dinner. Most notable were Wallis MacPhearson, most valuable baseball player, and Morgan Brassler, most valuable tennis player.

Jerry Buckley, Graterford, received an award as the most improved baseball player, and Roger Erb, East Greenville, earned a varsity track award.

Big 8th Inning Breaks 6-6 Stalemate, Ices Game

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies combined two triples, two singles, two walks and a double for six runs in the eighth inning Tuesday night to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 12-7.

The Phillies jumped on Lew Burdette, pitching in relief of Juan Pizarro, after the lead had gone back and forth through the sixth inning and was tied 6-6 when the Phils exploded.

Cal Neeman started the big inning with a triple. With one down, Harry Anderson batted for southpaw Chris Short and walked. Tony Taylor followed with a double, scoring Bobby Malkmus, who ran for Neeman. Alvin Dark was given an intentional walk, filling the bases. Bobby DelGreco singled, scoring Clay Dalrymple, who ran for Anderson, and Taylor. When Ken Walters singled and Herrera tripled, Burdette was removed.

Sloppy fielding in the sixth inning enable Milwaukee to tie the score, pushing three runs across on three singles and two errors.

The Phillies scored once in the opening inning on singles by Taylor, Dark and DelGreco. Milwaukee, which lost its fourth straight, went ahead in the third on Charlie Lau's double, Pizarro's triple and Felix Mantilla's double.

Hobbie Tosses 6-Hitter, Chicubs' Homers Subdue San Francisco, 9-1

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs bombed San Francisco 9-1 Tuesday night on Glenn Hobbie's six-hitter and the potent bats of Jerry Kindall, Ernie Banks and Bob Will. The loss dropped the Giants 1½ games behind league-leading Pittsburgh.

Kindall, called up from Fort Worth May 13, drove in three runs with two doubles. Banks hit his 10th homer off loser Johnny Antonelli in the first inning.

Antonelli also served up Kindall's doubles, the first a one-run job in the second inning and a two-runner in the fourth.

Banks drove in anothre run with a double off Stu Miller in the two-run seventh.

Banks also had a ninth-inning triple after Bob Will, who had replaced Lou Johnson, hit his second homer in two days off Joe Shipley. Will's homer drove in Richie Ashburn who had walked.

Hobbie, winning his fourth in 10 decisions, loaded the bases in the third but struck out cleanup hitter Willie McCovey to end the threat. McCovey also fouled out to Don Zimmer with two on in the seventh.

Ashburn bumped into the centerfield fence hauling down McCovey's drive in the fifth. Richie also caught several long blasts by Cepeda.

CLOSE BUT NOT QUITE—Bishop Shanahan third sacker "Bear" Eadie has the tag ready for St. Pius' David Psota in second inning of Suburban Catholic league game at Memorial park Tuesday. Psota was attempting to reach third on single by Butch Marcheski, but was out on neat throw from Hank Sicoli. Saints won, 8-5.

SIXTH-INNING TALLIES ICE 8-5 VICTORY

Marcheski Gains 4th Win After Relieving Kalavik

By WARREN HOWARD
(Mercury Sports Writer)

Steve "Butch" Marcheski halted Bishop Shanahan on one run for six innings, then scored the winning run as St. Pius X broke its Memorial park jinx with an 8-5 victory Tuesday afternoon.

Marcheski was summoned to the rescue of Don Kalavik in the second inning, with nobody out and two runs in. He caught Mel Cavazzini attempting a theft of home, walked Hank Sicoli, fanned Tony Pizzi, then got Ernie Esposito to force Sicoli to get out of the inning.

The win — fourth of the year for the Saints — was their first at Memorial park and second over the Eagles of West Chester. They have lost five.

Kalavik was hampered by wildness and lack of support during the first two innings.

THE EAGLES scored a pair without benefit of a hit in the first on a pair of walks and two errors.

Sicoli and John Celli walked sandwiched around an error, which put Ernie Esposito on. Kalavik picked Sicoli off third.

But "Bear" Eadie was safe on another error, scoring Esposito. Kalavik wild-pitched Celli home.

The Saints tied the score in their half on Joe Wambach's long triple to right, a walk to Augie DeNicco, who stole a base, and Esposito's wild relay throw on the steal.

WHEN KALAVIK surrendered a single to Fred McCarthy, a walk to Gary Martindell and Cavazzini's triple, Marcheski was summoned.

The Saints got another run in the second when Marcheski singled pushing Dave Psota to second, and when the throw nailed the Saints' keystoner at third, Marcheski took second, and scored on Pizzi's wild pickoff throw.

Errors continued to play a big part in the scoring as the Eagles scored in the fourth for a 5-3 lead, and the Saints cut the margin to one in their half.

Then the homesters tied the count in the fifth on a walk to John Chenosky, who stole second and scored on Esposito's muff of Skip Peterman's grounder.

THE EAGLES loaded the bases on a pair of singles and an intentional walk in the sixth, but Marcheski got out of the inning by fanning Eadie.

The Saints clinched the contest in their half when Marcheski waited out Cavazzini for a free pass, John Browne beat out a bunt and Esposito was called to the hill.

He intentionally passed Wambach, who had two hits, loading the bases, but DeNicco squeezed Marcheski home with a bunt, which he beat out for a single. Browne scored on Jack Mata's sacrifice fly and Wambach stole home.

Leading 8-5, Marcheski settled for the first time and set the Eagles down in order to gain his fourth victory of the year.

Dodgers Gain 8-3 Win On Grand-Slammer By Catcher

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rookie catcher Norm Sherry delivered the big punch with the first grand slam homer of his major league career as the Los Angeles Dodgers belted the St. Louis Cardinals 8-3 Tuesday night.

Dodger right-hander Stan Williams, a wild man on the verge of going straight, survived homers by Bill White and Ken Boyer and picked up his third victory with help from Larry Sherry.

Williams, now 3-0, struck out eight and walked 4 in 7 1-3 innings. Catcher Sherry broke a 3-3 tie with his grand-slammer in the sixth and dealt St. Louis starter Ron Kline his fourth loss in six decisions.

Boyer, the major league home run leader, socked his 12th with the bases empty in the sixth, just after White hit his sixth with Joe Cunningham aboard. It was White third homer in two games.

The Dodgers had taken a 3-0 lead in the fifth on doubles by Norm Sherry and Maury Wills and a single by Jim Gilliam. Los Angeles got one more in the seventh when Wally Moon singled, was sacrificed to second and came in on a single by Don Demeter.

Bluebirds Nip Dragons In Final I-C Tilt, 8-6

BRIDGEPORT — Paul Whary tripled and romped home on an error by shortstop Walt Smith with the winning run as Schwenksville's Bluebirds shaded Bridgeport, 8-6 in their final Inter-County league outing of the year.

The victory was the third in a row for the Birds, who closed out with a 4-8 log. Bill Fenstermacher was the winning pitcher in relief of starter Bob Walters.

The two clubs had fought a see-saw battle throughout the contest, with the Birds holding a 4-0 lead, then 4-2, in the second inning.

The Dragons came up with three runs in the third to take the lead and chase starter Bob Walters as they coupled an error, a triple and a pair of singles.

THE BIRDS moved ahead on two fourth-inning runs when John Rowland was safe on an error, scoring on Buddy Frey's single. Paul Whary, who committed the only Schwenksville error, then was safe on a Bridgeport bobble which allowed Frey to score.

Whary further redeemed himself by booming a triple to lead off the sixth and romped home when Jerry Long was safe on another miscue.

Bill Fenstermacher singled in the seventh for his first hit of the year, was forced by Eddie Creter, who scored on John Rowland's single for the insurance tally.

Rowland also homered in the second inning, his first of the year.

Indy Win Worth $110,000 to Rathmann

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP) — Jim Rathmann recieved a record $110,000 Tuesday night for his hard-won victory Monday in the 44th 500-mile auto race.

The previous record had been $106,850, won last year by Rodger Ward, who fought a hub-to-hub duel with Rathmann until slowed in the last 10 miles by a failing tire.

The total purse, also a record, was $367, 850, compared with last year's previous high of $338,100.

In addition to the big check of which car owners Kenny Rich and Paul Lacey of Dallas will receive 50-60 per cent, Rathmann received the expensive pace car and a long list of special prizes.

ONLY TWO minor changes were made Tuesday in the official standings of the Memorial Day race.

The official finish moved Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls Ohio, down from fifth to sixth and timers rejected his protest that he should be ranked third.

Timers also rejected the claim of eighth-ranked Bob Veith, Oakland, Calif., to third place, which went to Paul Goldsmith, St. Clair Shores, Mich.

Don Branson, Champaign, Ill., stayed at fourth.

Car owner J. C. Agajanian said he believed rookie Lloyd Ruby finished fifth instead of seventh, but he did not file a protest.

The only other change from Monday's unofficial standings moved Troy Ruttman, 1952 winner, up from 22nd place to 20th, past Don Freeland and Eddie Sachs, the No. 1, starter. Sachs, of Allentown, Pa., won $9,390.

Jim Rathmann's winning speed stood unchanged at 138.767 miles an hour, and Rodger Ward's runnerup speed was changed fractionally to 136.792.

ORIOLES TRIP YANKEES, 3-2

Birds Get Winning Run Off Ace Reliever Ryne Duren

BALTIMORE (AP)—The first-place Baltimore Orioles made it five out of six with a 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night. Right-hander Jerry Walker won his first decision of the year, but needed relief help in the ninth after blanking the Yankees without a hit for six innings.

Whitey Ford lost his third against two victories, both over the Orioles. The stubby southpaw, who blanked the Birds on three hits last week, had taken three in a row from Baltimore since last September.

The Orioles, beaten only twice in their last 11 games, got the clincher in the eighth inning off reliever Ryne Duren. They did it without a hit, scoring on Clint Courtney's sacrifice fly after three walks loaded the bases.

New York finished with four hits. Mickey Mantle's leadoff double in the seventh was the first safety off Walker, who faced 19 men in the first six frames. He struck out six of the first nine and seven of the first 11, fanning Mantle twice.

Roger Maris followed Mantle's double with a RBI single that tied it 1-1.

Walker was the last of Baltimore's five young pitchers to post a victory.

Sunset Pharmacy rode Hal Endy's three-hit shutout pitching to undisputed possession of the City Softball league lead Tuesday night with a 10-0 victory over the Whiz Kids at Memorial park.

Endy, winning his fourth in a row, fanned eight and walked but two. He was treated to a six-run cushion in the second inning, which proved to be more than enough.

The Druggists employed three hits, two walks and an error to push across four of the runs, then with Red Braunsberg on base Don Endy, Sunset third baseman, clubbed a home run to put the cap on the outburst.

The winners picked up two more in the third, and added single tallies in the fifth and sixth for insurance.

The winless Whiz Kids fell into a fourth-place tie with Minneapolis-Honeywell.

Clemente Single in 11th Gives Pirates 4-3 Win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roberto Clemente drove a bases-loaded single to centerfield in the 11th inning Tuesday night, giving the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Redleg Manager Fred Hutchinson used three pitchers in the 11th in a vain attempt to halt the Pirates, who loaded the bases on two walks and a safe bunt by Dick Groat. Clemente then swatted his game-winning single.

Groat paced the Pirates' 13-hit attack with a double and four singles.

The victory went to Elroy Face, who is now 4-3. The loss was charged to Cal McLish, the sixth of eight pitchers.

The Redlegs loaded the bases in the 10th and 11th innings but didn't score. With nobody out and the bases loaded in the 10th, Face made Frank Robinson hit into a double play that cut off a run at the plate and got Tony Gonzalez on a strikeout. In the 111th, the Reds had three men on and two out but Gus Bell lined out to second.

The Pirates also loaded the bases in their half of the 10th after two batters had been retired. McLish got Bill Mazeroski on a fly to end the threat.

Coventry Brethren-St. John's took advantage of early scoring and clutch pitching by Dan Domin to put down an Emmanuel rally and eke out a 5-4 Church league win at Memorial park Tuesday.

Domin came on in relief of Hal Schweitzer, who picked up his first victory as Coventry Brethren moved into a tie for the third place with St. Gabriel.

Schweitzer had a four-hit shutout going into the last of the seventh inning, when the losers pushed across four unearned runs, which brought Domin into the game.

Bob McArthur took the loss. He surrendered eight hits and two free tickets while fanning four. Schweitzer passed but one and fanned eight during his tenure.

The winners reached McArthur for four runs in the first inning, then pushed across what was to be the winning run in the third.

HALL HURLING NETS A'S 5TH STRAIGHT, 2-1

Kaycee Righthander Pegs 3-Hitter To Win

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Dick Hall pitched his fifth victory of the season Tuesday night, a 2-1 decision over the Detroit Tigers that extended the Kansas City Athletics' win-streak to five games.

The sensational right-hander gave up his only run when pinch hitter Sandy Amoros hit a home run in the eighth inning. Up to that point, Hall had dueled with lefty Pete Burnside with each giving up only two hits. But Burnside's wildness kept him in trouble throughout.

Andy Carey poked his third home run and gave Hall a 1-0 lead in the sixth inning. In the next stanza, Ken Hamlin drew the seventh base on balls off Burnside, went to second on Hall's sacrifice and advanced to third on Bill Tuttle's grounder. Hamlin then scored the winning run as Jerry Lumpe grounded out.

Hall ended up with a three-hitter. He gave up four walks, the same number he had issued in all his previous 47 1-3 innings.

The Athletics also got only three safeties off Burnside and Ray Semproch, who pitched the eighth inning. The defeat was Burnside's first. He had won two games.

Chisox Shake Doldrums, Top Indians On 4-Baggers By Smith, Freese, 6-4

CHICAGO (AP)—Home runs by Gene Freese and Al Smith featured a 12-hit attack which helped the Chicago White Sox snap a four-game losing streak and defeat the Cleveland Indians 6-4 Tuesday night.

The victory was only the third in 11 games for the slump-ridden Sox who had lost 6 straight on their home field. Chicago moved into third place, one-half game ahead of the New York Yankees who lost to Baltimore 3-2. Second place Cleveland fell two games behind Baltimore.

Freese' two-out, two-run homer in the fourth, wiped out a 2-0 Cleveland lead. Smith's leadoff shot in the sixth against starter Gary Bell triggered a three-run rally.

Sacrifice flies by Minnie Minoso and Luis Aparicio and a run-scoring single by Nellie Fox accounted for Chicago's other runs.

Sox starter Billy Pierce, gaining his fourth victory in six decisions, needed help from Russ Kemmerer in the seventh when the Indians scored two more runs. It was Pierce's third success against the Tribe this season.

Jimmy Piersall, slapped with a $250 fine earlier Tuesday by American League President Joe Cronin for "demonstrations" during the Memorial Day doubleheader, opened the game with his sixth homer.

The Tribe made it 2-0 in the third when Bell doubled and scored on a two-out single by Harvey Kuenn. Ken Aspromonte's two run, two-out single in the seventh sent Pierce to the showers.

Kemmerer, who is fast becoming a big asset to the Sox relief corps, threw out the dangerous Kuenn to end the inning and then yielded two harmless hits the rest of the way.

Bosox Quit American Loop Cellar With 5-1 Triumph Over Washington

BOSTON (AP)—Boston's reviving Red Sox outran Washington Tuesday night 5-1 and climbed out of the American League cellar, vaulting past the Senators into seventh place.

Only moments before tha rain-interrupted game owner Tom Yawkey issued a statement quashing reports Manager Billy Jurges may be on his way out, and voicing confidence in his manager.

The Red Sox responded with a sparkling display, backing winner Tom Brewer (4-4) with an assortment of squeeze plays, a beautiful hit-and-run and stolen bases. Brewer, in turn, served up a solid 4-hitter.

Boston collected 12 hits, including four doubles, off loser Bill Fischer (0-2) and two others.

But it was the "old fashioned baseball" the hit-and-run, and the squeeze play that caught the fancy of the Fenway Park crowd of 7,320.

Back-to-back doubles by Gary Geiger and Vic Wertz got Boston one run in the first. Then they worked a squeeze play in the second, just before a heavy downpour delayed the game for 59 minutes.

Washington's run was fashioned on Harmon Killebrew's single, a wild pitch and Jim Lemon's single in the sixth.

Indians Blanked By U. Moreland In Closeout, 15-0

WILLOW GROVE—John Tierney stopped Upper Perkiomen's Indians on four hits Tuesday, as Upper Moreland's Bears clubbed Larry Benner for a one-sided 15-0 Bux-Mont league win here.

The loss—coming in the final game of the year—forced the Indians to close out with a winless 0-13 slate.

The Bears broke the game open with six runs in the second inning and added eight more in the fourth to put the skids on Benner, who faced one batter in the fifth before giving way to John Still.

Ronald Engle followed Still to the mound and blanked the winners in the last one and two-thirds innings.

Meanwhile Tierney fanned five Upper Perkiomen batters and didn't allow a runner to reach third base as his control was letter perfect.

He also had two hits in four trips, and drove in two of his mates' runs.

COURT WILL DECIDE

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) —The World Court will announce on June 7 its opinion on how to determine the size of a nation's merchant fleet. Liberia, with U.S. and Panamanian support, contends size should be decided by total tonnage under each national flag. Britain and some others contend investment and ownership should prevail over the tonnages built up by so-called registration of convenience.

Jewish Faith Notes

Schorsch related Tuesday night before the start of services. "Passover celebrates the redemption from bondage. Shavuot celebrates the eternal festival of freedom."

"According to Jewish tradition," he continued, "the festival of Shavuot emphasizes that freedom can only exist if it is freedom under God, as in the American pledge to the flag. There is no absolute freedom."

"Freedom must be based on God's eternal moral code, which was revealed in the Ten Commandments," Rabbi Schorsch charged.

In ancient temples two loaves of bread, freshly baked with the new grain, were offered on this day.

At services at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, Rabbi Schorsch will discuss "A Spiritual Suspension Bridge." Memorial services for the dead will also be observed.

LOCAL FIRM AWARDS BIDS OF $18,419

flooring, painting, and paving driveways and a parking lot will be awarded at a later date.

THOMAS SAID the company hopes to move 60 engineers and draftsmen from present offices in the Security Trust company building to the renovated structure by July 31.

The building, previously used by Sanders and Thomas for developmental work in jet catapults and the Navy's Polaris missile, is exactly three miles west of High and Hanover streets in Douglass (Berks) township.

Once known as the company's "laboratory building," the structure's new designation will be "engineering offices." The entire contract, when completed, is expected to cost $25,000.

Man Is Fined On Drunk Charge

Edward Grepps, Pottstown RD 2, was fined $25 plus $14 costs at a hearing before Justice of the Peace William Scherfel Jr., Kenilworth, Tuesday morning.

Acting on the advice of his attorney Matthew Santangelo, Grepps pleaded guilty to a drunk and disorderly charged pressed by Edna Sponagle, who lives in the same building as Grepps.

North Coventry Township Police Chief Charles Wilt and Sgt. R. J. Updyke of the State police fire marshal's office are continuing an investigation into a fire that did $3500 damage to Grepps' home while the Sponagle woman was swearing out a warrant for his arrest.

Chief Wilt said Tuesday night, however, that there is little likelihood enough evidence will be uncovered to substantiate any suspicion of arson.

MAY BUILDING

site of the new store. The building is to be divided in half Carnahan has leased one half and Bickel will speculate on the other part.

CARNAHAN EXPECTS to establish a place of business there, but plans are incomplete. The store should be ready for occupancy in six weeks.

Harry Gresh, Boyertown builder, will construct a $10,500 Cape Cod style home at 1516 Sunset drive, for speculation.

A total of 115 permits were issued in May at a total value of $475,757. Six new homes worth $101,000 were started. The total value of permits from January through April was only $309,059.

The largest jobs planned are: the $150,000 J. C. Penney company store and a $130,000 addition to St. Peter's Lutheran church, Glasgow and Walnut streets.

Coming Down

This giant crane was maneuvered into position Tuesday to begin the destruction of a 44 year old, 50,000 gallon water tank behind the Pottstown Childrens Wear company at Third and Penn streets.

The huge tank on stilts has been an item of controversy since it was condemned in December by the borough and the State department of Labor and Industry. Mayer Pollock, incorporated, will demolish the tower for the owner, Dr. Samuel Porter. The Pollock company will get State and borough permits this morning to do the work, valued at $2000.

The tank stands over a huge, 8 foot deep pool which Dr. Porter was ordered to securely fence the past December. Bacchisio Ciarula, a 62 year old janitor at the plant, drowned in the pool February 5. Dr. Porter recently had a high, firm fence enclosure built.

State Supreme Court

Lawrence Yerk were among the first group of objectors as well as the second.

Willard Hetzel, East Greenville solicitor, predicted the complaint in equity would end in the judges foreclosing the injunction request because the three men named above "cannot blow hot and cold on threats of an injunction."

C. EDMUND WELLS, Raymond Pearlstine and Hetzel, solicitors for the sewer authority which is financing the vast project, petitioned the State Supreme court March 31 to take original jurisdiction in the dispute.

The men said then "further delay in the project could cause irreparable harm to the three communities."

The State high court decided April 6 to exercise jurisdiction in the case and heard arguments for and against the project in Philadelphia on April 18.

The judges ruled April 26 that all complaints against the authority and the project were dismissed "with prejudice."

Dismissing a case with prejudice is done when complainers have no ground for legal action. Justice Benjamin R. Jones wrote a 12-page opinion in this instance.

Attorney Roberts then filed a petition for reargument May 6 claiming that due process of the law was violated in the April 18 hearing. Roberts then made known plans to go on to the U. S. Supreme court if the petition to the State was denied.

The authority solicitors filed answers to the opposition petition, and in denying the plea for reargument, Justice Jones clipped his opinion from 12 pages to four words.

"Petition for reargument denied." The decision was dated May 26.

The plea to the U. S. high court will state in essence the sewer opponents have been denied due process of the law as established for them under the U. S. Constitution.

Month of May

An average May rainfall for this area is 3.69 inches.

During 15 different days of May, measurable precipitation fell; and there were thunderstorms six days. The biggest storm was the 8th and 9th, with a total of 2.08 inches of rain.

There were 18 cloudy days in "miserable May," seven partly cloudy days and only six clear days.

Five of these six clear days occurred together to bring Pottstown the finest weather of the month from the 2d through the 6th.

These five days in a row gave the borough 100 percent sunshine every day, which is "a record of some sort around here," according to Matthew Peacock, of the Reading Weather Bureau.

AFTER THIS pleasant balmy weather came the rains. Following the big storm on the weekend of the 8th and 9th, it rained 11 out of the next 15 days, with sprinkles that couldn't be measured falling several other days.

Quite a difference from last May, when it was wet only six days and measurable falls occurred only twice!

Temperatures were nothing startling in either direction from the normal, but the overall average for the entire month shows the mercury was about 1.5 degrees under what is expected here.

THE HIGHEST reading of the month was an 80 on the 16th, while the lowest was a 40 on the 2d. The coolest "high" came the 12th, when the mercury managed to climb to only 57.

Fund Workers Collect $13,800 in Pledges

Pledges amounting to $13,800 have been turned in by workers in the fund drive of the Young Women's Christian association.

Campaign Chairman Victor J. Roberts said Tuesday night the total is about $6000 short of that which the campaign should realize at this time.

The $50,000 drive will continue through June 17, Roberts indicated the campaign "perhaps should be about a third or half the way" to the goal now.

Workers turned in pledges for approximately $4300 at a report meeting Tuesday night at the "Y".

FA 3-3000 is the number for news tips.

June Expected To Be Better

and it should be a day of brilliant sunshine, with a high near 80 degrees.

No rain is seen until Friday at the earliest, and before then, the mild weather will be marked by daily highs around the 80 mark and pleasant and refreshing lows just under 60 each morning.

THE MERCURY remained in the 60s over Monday night, climbed to 74 during the afternoon, then dipped down into the 50s early today. The low by dawn could be about 55.

Southerly winds from the Gulf of Mexico will be bringing warm, humid air up from the Mississippi valley into this area tomorrow.

Late tomorrow, humidity and cloudiness will increase to signal showers arriving in the State late tomorrow night and reaching this area Friday.

Elderly Man Hurt In Two-Car Crash

An elderly area man was injured Tuesday at 10 p.m. in a two car accident at the intersection of Lewis road and Fruit Farm road, Upper Providence township.

William G. MacLaughin, 92, Collegeville RD 2, suffered cuts of the face and forehead. He did not require hospitalization.

MacLaughin was a passenger in a car driven by Clinton Crist Jr., Collegeville RD 2. State police at the Jeffersonville barracks identified the other driver as Robert Balliet, Palmerton.

YOUNG BOY IS SAVED BY RELATIVE

floor of the two story brick building wrapped in a blanket over his red pajamas.

She set the boy on the lawn, then returned to the house to call the fire department. Fifteen members of the Upper Salfordville Fire company responded on two pieces of equipment, including an ambulance.

A SECOND alarm was sounded and the Lower Frederick Fire company responded as heavy smoke poured from the second floor windows.

Firemen fought the blaze for more than an hour, containing it to the second floor. Fireman Frank Poatsy of the Salfordville company, was in charge of the more than 20 firemen and four pieces of equipment.

The boy has two brothers, Dennis, 8, and David, 17. David works with his mother at Sun-Lite, a clothing manufacturing plant, in Souderton. Dennis attends Salford Elementary school with his younger brother.
